DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. Claims 1-69 are pending in the Application.

Claims 1, 8, 9, 10, 14, 15, 17, 25, 33, 35, 38, 45, 52, 55, 57, 58, 60, 63, 65, 66, 68, and 69 have been amended.

Claims 1-69 are subject to Election/Restriction.

Response to Amendment

2. Applicant's amendments and arguments filed on 26 July 2006 in response to the restriction requirement mailed on 28 June 2006 have been fully considered, but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of restriction as presented infra.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to the restriction requirement have been fully considered, but are moot in view of the newly presented restriction requirement. More specifically, present Examiner withdraws the requirement as set forth by the previous Examiner, as present Examiner believes this requirement was erroneously applied to the instant Application. Present Examiner however adamantly disagrees with Applicant's assertion that the instant application does not place serious burden on Examiner, and further contends that the instant application is in fact directed to more than more independent and distinct invention. Therefore, present Examiner sets forth a new ground of restriction. This restriction requirement is made non-final to allow Applicant an opportunity to provide his/her retort. Additionally it is worthy to note that Applicant's assertion that class 711 subclass 15 and class 711 subclass 163 are closely related is not persuasive as the former subclass does not even exist in the Office's current classification schedule. Since the previous restriction requirement is withdrawn, Applicant's arguments with respect to the previous restriction requirement are rendered moot.

Election/Restrictions

4. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-10, 54-59, 65, and 69 drawn to a network-attachable data storage device utilizing a non-volatile memory and a processor to compare characteristics of stored data content in a memory with reference data content characteristics in order to identify a match, classified in class 711, subclasses 103 and 154.

II. Claims 11-30, 33, 35-37, 52, 53, and 60-64 drawn to a method and a network for storing data content/files based on a set of rules, and subsequently controlling users' access to the memory storing the data content/files, classified in class 711, subclass 163.

III. Claims 31, 32, 34, 38-51, and 66-68 drawn to a server, a data carrier, programmed memory, and network attached storage device utilizing a processor to obtain a fingerprint of a file in a reference library to compare with a reference fingerprint to establish a content related attribute of the file, classified in class 707, subclass 6.

5. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility from invention II, such as in a system using a content-addressable memory to store and retrieve data in the memory based on data content. Invention II has separate utility from invention III, such in a system used to increase network security by monitoring and limiting user access to a memory storing files. Finally, invention I has separate utility from invention III, such as use in a network based database utilizing a reference library of stored signatures to manage a plurality of actions to be taken by the network.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification (hence resulting in a divergent search), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
